Belleville Army Sergeant Is Awarded Silver Star

BELLEVILLE — Exceptionally valorous actions under fire at Vietnam earned the Silver Star, the Army's second highest decoration for Sgt. E-5 Larry Ousley of Belleville.

Sgt. Ousley, who entered military service in 1964, was cited by his superior officers for "outstanding actions" on Oct. 18, 1968, while engaged with enemy forces in the Republic of Vietnam.

He is the husband of Mrs. Dawn (Beavers) Ousley, who is currently residing with her parents at 7678 Marlowe. He is a graduate of Belleville High School and the son of Mrs. Emogene Layne of Belleville and Arthur Ousley of Peru, Indiana.

OTHER CITATIONS received by Sgt. Ousley include: Two Purple Hearts, Air Medal, National Defense Medal, Combat Infantry Badge, Viet Cross of Gallantry with Palm, Presidential Unit Citation with two Oak Leaf Clusters.

The Citation earning Sgt. Ousley the Silver Star said: "Sgt. E-5 Larry Ousley distinguished himself by exceptional valorous actions in the face of a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam, Oct. 18, 1968.

"While leading a squad in the conduct of a ground reconnaissance, Sgt. Ousley discovered a bunker complex blocking the line of advance of the element on his right flank. Sgt. Ousley shouted a warning to the platoon men of the third squad and the Viet Cong responded with devastating small arms and automatic weapons fire from three sides of the unit. Sgt. Ousley directed the return fire from his squad.

"After ordering the squad to rejoin the platoon at a point two hundred and fifty meters to the west, Sgt. Ousley placed himself in the rear of the movement to cover the withdrawal when the platoon leader had consolidated his squad he directed a head count to be taken. The third squad leader reported that the platoon medic was missing. Sgt. Ousley and PFC Matulewicz volunteered to conduct a search of the last known position of the medic with only one workable weapon between them. Despite the murderous crossfire from the automatic weapons placements, Sgt. Ousley and PFC Matulewicz continued their search to within fifty meters of the enemy bunkers.

After searching unsuccessfully the area in which the medic was seen, they returned to the platoon position along the most likely route for the medic to follow. Even though Sgt. Ousley and PFC Matulewicz separated to cover a wider area along the return route, they were still unable to find the medic.

"As Sgt. Ousley reached the platoon position a helicopter landed to attempt a medical evacuation. One ambulatory wounded boarded the helicopter and Sgt. Ousley totally disregarding the intense small arms and automatic weapons fire, deliberately exposed himself while assisting in loading the other critically

MAYOR SMITH COMMENTS

City-Township Merger Vote To Be Held December 10

BELLEVILLE — An election to decide on the union of the City of Belleville and Van Buren Township into a single governmental unit will be held on Dec. 10.

A petition for the election on city-township merger proposition was initiated by Mayor Royce E. Smith and members of Belleville City Council last June.

Since that time many area residents and leaders have joined in the move to bring about a merger of both communities.

An earlier attempt (1963) by the city to annex a portion of the south section of Van Buren was defeated after weeks of pro and con debate.

CONDITIONS in both communities have changed since, officials state.

Both communities have improved in residential and commercial expansion.

In addition reports prevail about adjacent communities considering annexation of parts of the township and area.

In discussing the City-Township merger which requires the majority vote of both communities, Mayor Smith stated:

"There will be forthcoming facts and figures showing the advantages of both communities uniting into one governmental unit. Also a series of meetings will be held to discuss and answer all questions relating to this matter. Dates of these meetings will be announced."

The mayor added that any citizens group desiring to hold a meeting on the issue regardless of it be morning, noon or night, arrangements will be made to do so and required information will be provided along with official representation.

HE POINTED out that if the election fails, present boundaries of the Township in his opinion will not remain. Romulus is seeking city status and eyeing area development according to reports.

Also the City of Wayne touching Van Buren Township where the proposed I-275 construction is planned is reported to be eyeing building

Romulus Public Housing Units Plans Approved

ROMULUS — Final working drawings for Romulus Township's initial U. S. Public Housing units have received the approval of officials of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Edmund Bizek, township supervisor, announced this week.

Word of plan approval by the Chicago office of HUD was reported to township officials by David Layne, Romulus housing director.

The township's Public Housing Units calls for the construction of 101 low-rent dwelling units in the Wayne-Beverly Roads area, the site of Romulus proposed Urban Renewal Project covering some 570 acres of land.

THE HOUSING units will be available to township's low-income families and those to be displaced by Urban Renewal Program. They are to be of modern design having the latest in architectural planning, Layne reported.

The Romulus Housing Commission is drafting a construction contract and hopes to have groundbreaking ceremonies about Dec. 15.

The U. S. Housing Assistance Administration, a division of HUD, provides the funds for the project. Romulus becomes the landlord of the housing units, collects the rents which are used to pay off the bonds issued on U. S. Housing Programs.

Under the Federal approved "Turn Key" method to be employed in the Romulus proposed program, a private contractor will construct the housing units on acquired land or township-owned land, received payment and then turned them over to Romulus Township.

Area Communities Exceed UF Goals

BELLEVILLE — United Foundation's residential collections in Belleville — Van Buren Township, were 105.7 per cent over this year's goal, Mrs. James Fruit, region chairman reported this week.

The city-township 1968 goal was $1,467. Collections totaled, as of Oct. 28, $1,550.85. The Torch Drive runs through Nov. 7. In Romulus, volunteers also reported going over their quota. They collected $1,081.21 as against last year's total of $719. Mrs. Gary (Judy) Gruber, division chairman said.

In Huron Township, collections so far have reached 83.4 per cent of this year's goal. $751 was taken in. The goal is $899. Reports are not all in as of edition time, it was reported.

In Sumpter, volunteers collected over their quota by 100.2 per cent or $481. The Polaski Social Club donated $25. The Sumpter Social Club presented UF with a $100 check and the Sumpter Democratic Club is donating $25.

Area chairman heading the Sumpter drive are Mrs. Lawrence Elden, Mrs. Steven Kalasz and Mrs. John L. Galloway.

FIND GUNS Raid Nets 21 Persons In Romulus

ROMULUS — A raid on the headquarters of the "Vikings" Motorcycle Club, 11079 Grover, brought about the arrest of 18 adults and three juveniles, Police Chief Jacob J. Koch disclosed Monday.

The raid was staged by members of the special Investigation Bureau of the Wayne County Sheriff's office, Sheriff's Road Patrol and County Jail staff on Saturday, Oct. 26 at 1 a.m.

Acting on information that two wanted men may be on the premises, police entered the headquarters and found a beer party in progress, police reported. Beer and liquor was also confiscated from a bar set-up.

Confiscated was some marijuana, three weapons, some ammunition, beer and miscellaneous items. Investigation by Romulus police and sheriff's office is continuing.

The three juvenile girls taken into custody were later released to their parents. The adults were booked for disorderly conduct investigation at the station and released pending further inquiry.

One of the two men sought prior to the raid was found inside the club, Koch said.

Wayne County to Start Year with Record Budget

Wayne County government will start its next fiscal year Dec. 1 with a record budget of $142.4 million.

The budget was approved by the County Board of Supervisors Oct. 31. The Supervisors increased the budget by $801,000 over the $141,696,520 which had been recommended by the County Board of Auditors.

During the three weeks of hearings, departmental spokesmen asked for a total of $6 million over what the Auditors had recommended.

The Supervisors "found" the additional $801,000 by trimming in several places and by increasing the Auditors' revenue estimates, which were described as conservative.

The increases which the Supervisors made included

$125,000 for a start on improvements at the County Jail, as recommended in a recent report which criticized conditions at the Jail.

A $100,320 outlay for Juvenile Court was also among the additions to the budget. The money will be used to hire 13 additional juvenile group leaders for the Youth Home. Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln had requested 95 additional positions.

A RECOMMENDATION by the Supervisors Ways and Means Committee that the proposed budget of the Detroit-Wayne County Port Commission be slashed from $122,450 to $50,000 was rejected by the full Board after a lengthy debate.

Opponents of the cut argued that it would give other ports a competitive advantage over the Detroit port district. Those who favored the cut maintained that many Port Commission activities duplicated those of private waterfront businesses. The appropriation was restored by a roll call vote of 58-32.

The budget provides for "slightly improved and expanded" public service programs "to meet the needs of the community more adequately," the Board of Auditors reported.

Wayne County General Hospital, which has been hampered by staff shortages, is among the institutions whose budgets were increased. The Hospital's budget was raised from approximately $27.3 million to $30 million.

THERE WAS no increase in the County tax rate. The budget increases will be financed by property tax revenues from new construction and rising land values, more State income tax revenue, and increased revenues from grants and charges for County services.

The budget includes salary raises averaging 12 percent for nine elected officials, the deputies of six of them and the nine Common Pleas Court Judges.

Supporters of the salary increases said they are needed to enable government to compete with private industry for high-caliber executive talent.

helicopter body coming to rest between Sgt. Ousley and the enemy's position.

"Leaving this sheltered position, Sgt. Ousley circled around the helicopter and without regard for his own safety attempted to rescue the man.

Despite the increasing volume of enemy fire, St. Ousley continued his rescue efforts for several minutes, until a RPL round exploded approximately ten meters from his position, wounding him in the leg and the pinned man in several places.

Believing the man to be dead, Sgt. Ousley abandoned his rescue efforts and crawled back to the platoon position. Upon his return, his platoon leader and the aircraft commander of the helicopter had moved to the south to coordinate with Company D First Battalion of the 16th Infantry. Sgt. Ousley assumed command of the platoon and directed them in moving to a defensive position. He, despite the pain from his own leg wound, dragged an incapacitated man with him.

"After positioning the remainder of the platoon in their defensive positions and insuring that the critically wounded had been given as much care as possible, Sgt. Ousley then secured a landing zone for a medical evacuation. While the most seriously wounded personnel were being evacuated by helicopter, a superior enemy force moved into the surrounding houses. The platoon leader who had rejoined the platoon during the medical evacuation then led the platoon in breaking out of the encirclement to the west.

"Sgt. Ousley and the members of his squad formed the rear element of this movement covering the withdrawal of the platoon from the area. After the platoon had reached its new defensive positions, Sgt. Ousley and his squad then secured a landing zone for extraction of the remainder of the platoon.

When all but four members of the platoon had been extracted, small arms fire was received preventing further extraction. Sgt. Ousley and the other three members of the platoon were then forced to evade the enemy and fire and held a new position until reinforced by an air mobile force of the Third Brigade."

ON SUMPTER DISPUTE

Van Buren Appeals to High Court

BELLEVILLE — The Van Buren Township Board of Education authorized last week an appeal to the Michigan State Supreme Court in its dispute with the State Board of Education on the re-organization of the former Sumpter School District.

Decision to appeal to the state's highest court was made on recommendation of the school system's attorney John Mac Donald, school superintendent Dale E. Kaulitz, announced.

Van Buren School Board sought a decision from the Wayne County Circuit Court on a declaration of rights and responsibilities in the financing of the Sumpter School District after its split-up among four adjacent school districts.

Judge George T. Martin of the Wayne Circuit Court in September, 1968, held in favor of the school Board. An appeal to the State Court of Appeals by the state attorney general on Judge Martin's ruling brought a reversal.

JUDGE MARTIN had denied a motion to dismiss the suit instituted by the Van Buren School Board. He held that $476,237 recommended for payment to Van Buren School District by the State Board of Education officials be paid.

The State Court of Appeals held against the position taken by the school board by a vote of 2 to 1. A rehearing plea was subsequently denied.

Steps to procure legislative assistance in Lansing on meeting the additional financial burden imposed on the Van Buren Public Schools have been initiated in a series of conferences with legislative officials.

Meanwhile the School Board directed its counsel to proceed with appeal procedures.

Western Wayne Volunteers Win UF's Sugar Bowl Race

Western Wayne volunteers in the 1968 Torch Drive won the "Sugar Bowl" race and claimed the trophy at the Residential Day observance (Oct. 28) in Cobo Hall, campaign headquarters.

One of five Torch Drive residential units, Western Wayne reported collections totaling $94,680 or 98.2 per cent of its quota.

The "Sugar Bowl" trophy is presented annually to the residential unit achieving the highest percentage of quota by Residential Day, traditionally scheduled 10 days after the official opening of the campaign.

The 20th annual United Foundation campaign got underway Oct. 15 and continues through Nov. 7. It seeks $27,550,000 to underwrite the operating costs of nearly 200 health and community services in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The campaign general chairman, Calvin J. Werner, vice president, General Motors Corp., presented the "Sugar Bowl" trophy to the Western Wayne unit chairman, Mrs. Frederick C. Schneidewind Jr., of 229 Beechmont, Dearborn.

A VETERAN Torch Drive volunteer, Mrs. Schneidewind, has worked in every campaign since the UF was established in 1949.

But rather than her own skills in fund-raising, she credited the "good team spirit" of her region chairmen for the victory.

"I have never worked with six more cooperative, capable, hardworking volunteers," Mrs. Schneidewind said. "Of course, I did not pick them blind; I knew something about each one."

The region chairmen and their totals follow: Mrs. William J. McKernan, 8936 Quandt, Allen Park, $14,620 or 116.8 per cent of quota; Mrs. Harold Burr, 6636 Colonial Ave., Dearborn Heights, $30,204 or 95.7 per cent; Mrs. William W. Bartels, 26891 Thimbark, Wayne, $9,040 or 102.3 per cent.

Also, Mrs. Leroy Holland, 32954 Oakley, Livonia, $19,595 or 93.2 per cent; Mrs. James B. Fruit, 41 North Edgemont, Belleville, $5,071 or 102.2 per cent, and Mrs. Raymond H. Weidner, 2057 Heather Hill Dr., Trenton, $15,096 or 91.9 per cent.

At today's luncheon, the 50,000 doorbell ringers from throughout the three-county area reported collections totaling $889,687 or 88 per cent of quota.

THE AMOUNT is $48,786 higher than the total reported at the 1967 Residential Day luncheon. Last year, the volunteers turned in $840,901 or 87 per cent of their quota at this time.

Headliner for the luncheon, paid for by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., was Marlene Sanders, news commentator with the ABC-TV network.

The luncheon chairman was Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard III, of Grosse Pointe Farms, Torch Drive chairman for residential campaigns.

She commended the doorbell ringers for the "hundreds of thousands of hours" the volunteers have devoted to the drive.

"You receive no pay while working and no reimbursement for the expenses you incur," she said, "but you do receive a great deal of satisfaction and pleasure from doing the job well."

In addition to laurels from campaign leaders and the UF Executive Vice President Jacques Cousin, the 500 doorbell ringers attending the luncheon each received a carnation, courtesy of Allied Florists Association of Metropolitan Detroit.

The first President to be married in office was John Tyler. World Book Encyclopedia says he married Julia Gardiner in 1844, two years after his first wife died.

Budget Approved By School Board

ROMULUS — An operating budget of $3,355,550, the highest in the history of Romulus Community Schools, was adopted by the Romulus Board of Education.

The budget recommended by School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy, was approved by the School Board following a public hearing held Monday, Oct. 28. There were no objections at the hearing.

McConeghy reported that the approved budget is a "balanced one" and is the highest in the history of the school system despite drastic cuts in educational programs and teaching staff. Estimated revenues for the 1968-69 school year is reported at $3,355,550.

THIS YEAR'S budget total compares with a budget of $3,182,075 for 1967-68 school operations. Of this budget, 84 per cent is for salary and wage obligations, as against 82 per cent last year, McConeghy reported.

Of the estimate revenue increase this year of $311,000 over the 1967-68 school year, some $182,000 will be used to meet salary and wage requirements.

This year the school system and the Romulus Education Association ended contract negotiations with increase in salary benefits and other improvements.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT has been operating on a deficit budget.

The sum of $300,000 in state aid was borrowed and must be paid back by September, 1969, and another loan of $750,000 anticipated tax revenue was made and has to be paid by May 1, this year.

McConeghy reported also that progress on the construction of additional classrooms to both the Cory and Mt. Pleasant Elementary School is progressing according to schedule.

On Nov. 11 bids on addition to the high school, including an auto shop, administrative wing addition and 800-seat auditorium will be received.

Also bids on a new Maintenance Building and renovation to the Board of Education.

This week let's look at the Trachtenberg system for speed multiplication, specifically 11. This system uses three steps for every multiplication x 11, and follow these three STEP 1. The right hand number of the multiplicand (the number to be multiplied) is put down as the right hand number of the answer. Three is the right-hand number of the multiplicand, just bring it down and you have the right-hand number of the answer, 3.

STEP 2. To get the succeeding numbers simply add each number to the neighbor at the right (plus anything carried). The next number is 2, just add it to the number at the right, 3, and the next number in the answer is 5. Repeat this step until you have used all the numbers. The next number is 6, add it to the neighbor at the right, 2, and the next number in the answer is 8.

STEP 3. The left-hand number of the multiplicand becomes the left-hand number of the answer (add in anything you carry). The left-hand number of the multiplicand is 6, just bring it down. The answer is complete.

Now using all these steps try multiplying 627254523 x 11. You will be able to do it in seconds.

Learn these steps for 11. Next week multiplication by 12. (Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series on the Trachtenberg Speed System of Basic Mathematics by William Lloyd, math teacher at Belleville Junior High School.)

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?

A lot of homes will.

In wintertime, people in houses with flame-type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking.

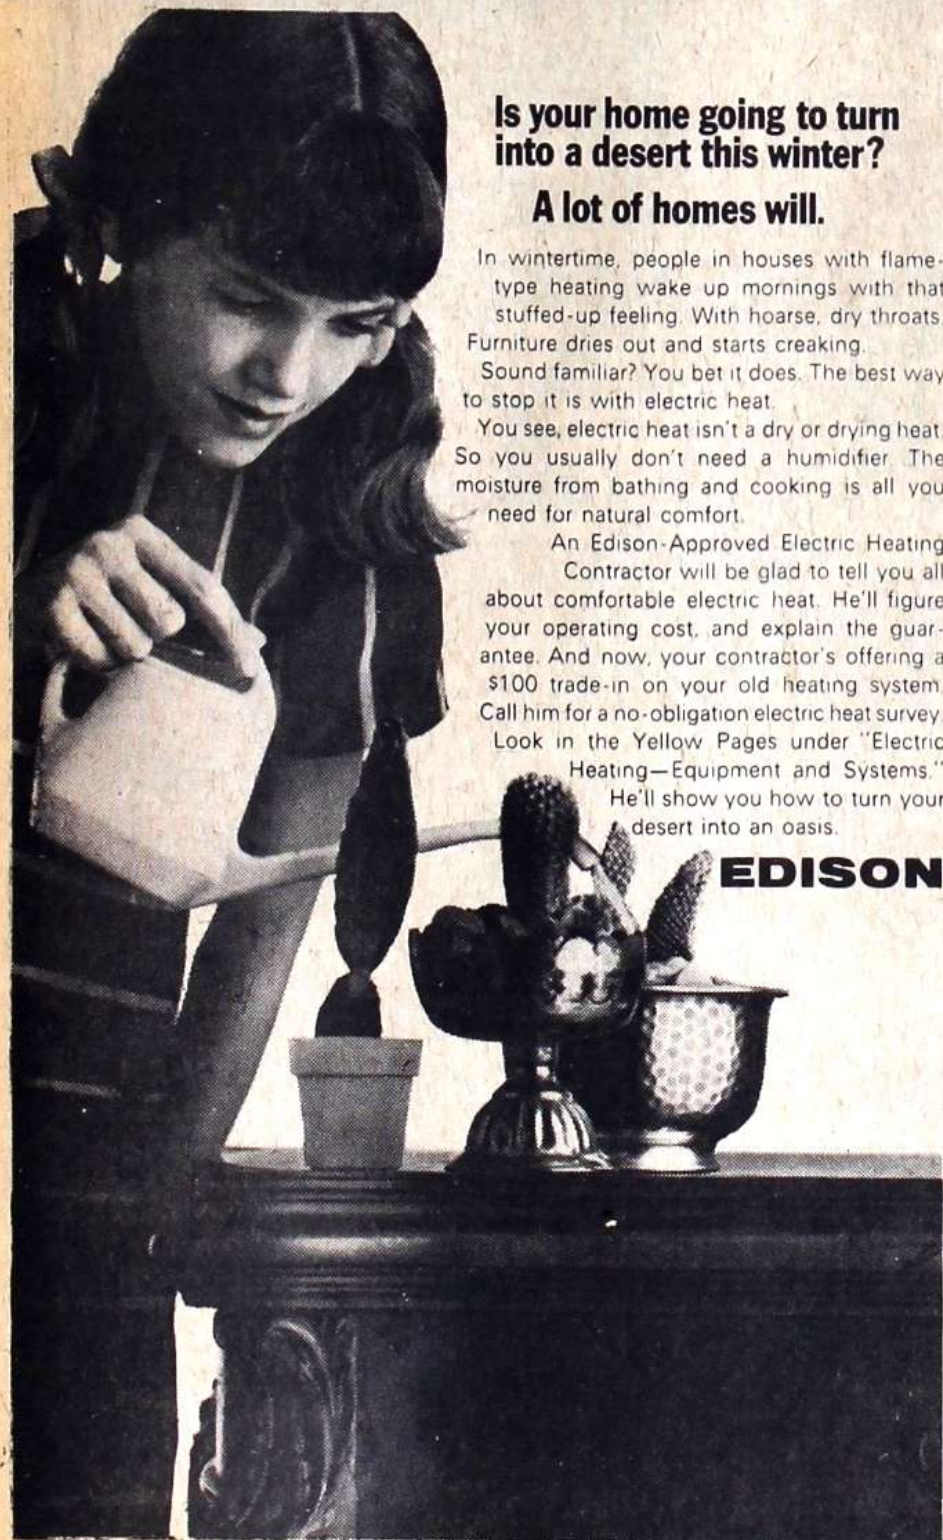

Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat.

You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat. So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison-Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and explain the guarantee. And now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for a no-obligation electric heat survey. Look in the Yellow Pages under "Electric Heating—Equipment and Systems."

He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

Veterans Day!
Time to Reflect

The commitment of the United States to battle in Viet Nam did not come because of direct attack against the territory or the armed forces of this nation.

Our immediate survival is not the reason young men are called upon to fight as they were, for example, on the day of Pearl Harbor. Then the threat could be easily seen; there was nothing abstract about it. And, World War I was "the war to end wars." The young men were called, and the nation stood behind them.

Now, in the jungles of Asia, they fight again, and this time perhaps for the most urgent cause of all — to gain time in which the governments of the two great nuclear powers can recognize the realities of this age which they have created and learn new ways to settle their differences.

Veterans Day is observed on November 11, for the purpose of honoring those veterans living and dead who have served in the U.S. armed forces in time of war.

Special honor should be accorded to the veterans of Viet Nam — the men who still fight there and those who have yet to go.

They do more than defend their country's honor and ideals which in itself would be enough. They are buying time for the survival of civilization itself.

A Day for Humble
Thanks Approaches

Thanksgiving is the oldest observance, unique to the United States, which we now commemorate as a national holiday. It began with the pilgrims at Plymouth after their first harvest in 1621.

From their tenuous foothold on the edge of an unknown continent, whose limits they were never to know, grew the English colonies, the conviction that government derived its powers from the people, the American Revolution and finally the United States of America.

What happened then through the years of our national history and what we have the opportunity of carrying forward today should be remembered with humility and thanksgiving on the 28th of November, 1966.

We defend again the principles of human freedom on the battlefield. We should be thankful that we have the strength to do so. Our harvests were never more abundant, and our material wealth never greater.

Our original dedication to the worth of the individual is intact, and our institutions in these fast-changing times are proving equal to the task of living up to this dedication. The faith of our forefathers was strong, and it built the land that we live in today.

Let us give thanks that we have been able to fulfill that faith to this point in our history and continue in our common purpose to pass it onward with courage and with wisdom for generations yet to come.

Serviceman Mail
Data is Requested

As a public service program the Enterprise-Roman is requesting for publication names and addresses of area servicemen now serving in various branches of the Armed Services.

It has come to our attention that sons of area families stationed in Vietnam and other far away military posts have written home requesting the names and addresses of their hometown friends who are in the service.

They feel that letter writing among overseas servicemen and perhaps visiting when possible would be a tonic of untold benefits.

We heartily agreed and suggest that those families with sons in the service, who wish to have the name and locations published to send the following information: Name, location, service branch or division and post office address.

Remember the holidays are just around the corner. A letter or package from home or from a fellow service buddy to service personnel can do a lot to lift one's spirit.

AUTUMN'S TREASURE-TROVE

Autumn colors prejudice a man,
When reds and yellows fade to brown and tan—
Beauty can be both seen and said,
With maple - red and sumach - red,
And all the shades of brown and yellow
Rival willow green, so mellow.
Grass and trees and shrub and vine,
The unchanging evergreen and pine—

All make a lovely background stand,
For colored stones upon the sand,
For blue waters on the shores,
Colors, tints, and shades, galore.
A little "hidey-house" in the grove
Reflects gay colors in the cove.
Wherever vision is want to rove,
We find autumn's treasure-trove.

"Candid Capers"

By Bill Balogh

HARD DAY'S NIGHT — When the old sandman blops you on the head it makes no difference who or where you are. Bill Balogh's camera captured this photo treasure of a tiny tiger who just "ran out of gas" before mother could tot her off to bed. The picture does prove a point that a good stuffed toy is not only a pastime for a little tot but doubles as a pillow when sleepy time sneaks up.

The Obligation to Inform

The next president of the United States will not only be extremely wary of getting mired in "another Vietnam." He will also — when any major problem, domestic or foreign, looms — be alert to the need for adequately informing the people all about that problem, its dimensions, its impact, and his proposed solutions. He may wish to mobilize his Cabinet, his vice-president, members of his party in Congress, for the task.

The events of the last few years, and particularly the public's rejection of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, have made clear how essential is this obligation to keep the American people fully informed — to discuss issues frankly, to "carry the public along."

Biographers of Lyndon Johnson list as one of his administration's major short comings this insufficiency of persuasive rapport with the people. The President could lecture, he could pound home, he could argue. But he and his Cabinet did less well in making available all the pertinent facts, all the surrounding influences — the stakes, the issues of principle, the full picture. When the crunch came on Vietnam, and the war costs soared, the public mind was not ready for the ordeal.

All the presidential candidates this year seem alert to the problem. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller gave a useful example of "how to enlighten" in his hour-long television discussion with commentator Paul Niven. As the discourse ranged from topic to topic — from Vietnam to the plight of the cities, a relaxed Mr. Rockefeller spoke frankly of the obstacles, the philosophic angles, the likely prospects, his proposed solutions.

Richard Nixon has likewise noted that the presidency offers a vast opportunity for "open" leadership — he has remarked that Teddy Roosevelt called it a "bully pulpit." Hubert Humphrey has urged the fullest use of the presidential opportunities to "inform the American people."

The skills of leadership are not learned overnight. And a president is up against the fact that a surprising number of Americans — not the articulate ones, and not those that parade and debate — have only the foggiest notion of affairs. Opinion polls a few years back revealed that, of those questioned, one person out of four actually did not know that mainland China was ruled by Communists, and that same proportion knew nothing at all about the NATO alliance.

A president has to judge, deftly, how far and how fast he can lead. Perhaps no presentation could have made a Vietnam war palatable. But in these complex times, the need for a constant stream of enlightenment and insight flowing out of the White House is essential to a successful presidency. — From The Christian Science Monitor.

By JIM FITZGERALD

ONE OF OUR leading space scientists, braindrained from Germany, was moaning recently about how the U.S. is trailing Russia in the race to the moon.

This is a typical example of old-country thinking. We'd better start growing our own scientists if imports such as Werner Van Braun can't find anything more important to fret about than the space gap.

The thing the U.S. must fear is a bosom gap.

Who cares if Russia is the first to give foreign aid to the man in the moon? The crucial crisis is whether there is a Russian girl who wears a bigger bra than Francine Gottfried.

In this time of national peril, it would seem that our backward scientists must turn to Wall Street for guidance. Those capitalists can recognize the true significance of worldwide developments even when they are cleverly cloaked in wool. This was proven the first time Francine walked by the Stock Exchange.

CERTAINLY YOU read about Francine. Her front has become the most publicized front since the allies opened the second front in World War II. Which is an apt metaphor because Francine has actually started another war in which it's what's up front that counts. As of this writing, it is still a civil war. But civil wars can easily spawn international entanglements, as all you boys and girls in Vietnam know, don't you?

Francine measure about 45 inches around the breasts. She hasn't seen her feet since she was 10 years old. She dreamed she was a chest of drawers with the top drawer open all the way in her Maidenform bra. When she walked down Wall Street, 5,000 lusty men and 32 pouting women turned out to stare. It took 50 cops to handle the traffic jam as America's business section paid homage to an anatomical section.

If It Fitz . . .
A Big Bosom Gap?

This started the blouse-busting competition.

NEXT CAME Gerri Stotts, a California bookkeeper who checks in at 47-29-39. I think I know where she keeps her books.

Ronnie Bell followed Gerri down Wall Street. Ronnie is a 50-22-37 stripper. If an architect had designed Ronnie he'd have been jailed for creating a public hazard. It is dangerous to walk by her — but this didn't stop the capitalists. In their eagerness to salute Ronnie's achievements, they even got a little pushy. Ronnie was accidentally knocked to the ground. It took five men and a small boy to carry her from the scene. The small boy carried the feet end.

My point is that it is obviously only a matter of time before Moscow enters the competition. Imagine the humiliation to the U.S. if Hilda Ruski should stroll down Wall Street and draw a bigger crowd than Ronnie, Gerri and Francine.

Could this country still claim to be one of the top powers if Russia shamed our tops? I fear not. We have got to get hopping or, before you can say WOW, the Russians will be claiming they invented Jane Russell.

IT IS UP to our scientists. It is splendid for Wall Street to make our nation fully aware of its greatest monuments. But it will take the men of science — the men who gave us the bomb and hid our windshield wipers — to protect these monuments from the Communist shadow.

Even as a confirmed leg man, I realize the extreme importance of moving swiftly while our nation is still sticking out farthest in front. My suggestion to the scientists is this:

Transplants. From cows to women.

My finances are getting in such a mess, you would think I was getting advice from the government. — Dale Holdridge, The Langford (S. Dak.) Bugle.

JUST PONDERIN'

AS I SET out to tackle the vital parts of this old Underwood at 3:10 p.m. Monday, it suddenly occurred to me that there'd have been a whole new page in history written as this paper was delivered Wednesday to our many subscribers. First and foremost, of course, we'd have a new commander-in-chief elected to take his oath of office in January. Secondly, if my reflections Sunday evening don't bear me out, it'll cost me one rhubarb pie (homemade, specified.) Still don't know what MY prize will be if I'm proven correct!

Then, too, I find people are still speculating on the marriage-of-the-year(?)—wondering, wondering, wondering. And speaking of wondering—it's still somewhat of a mystery as to why our street lamps on Main street are bearing those candy striped embellishments. We've heard of rushing the season but pre-Halloween yet?

And out at our house we're wondering who that marvelous cook is that donated brownies to the Denton Church's bazaar and turkey dinner. We bought half a dozen and absolutely drooled over their taste and texture. Come on ladies out there in Denton, if you know who's responsible for those goodies, please give me a call. I'm a recipe collector from way back and would be delighted to add those brownies to my file. By the way, Mrs. Ina Mae Doub, your carrot bread was yummy and sure didn't last long at our house.

MORE ON GOOD COOKS

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of culinary artists, let me just relate to one Mrs. Lucille Remus the many, many compliments we overheard on her Sunday dinner at St. Anthony's bazaar. Those creamed mushrooms were sheer delight and along with the very nice assortment of dishes, proved to be another success for our local caterers.

And the ladies of the church came through again with their luscious cakes and pies which had many a diner stumped as to which piece to select.

There are just too many people to give credit to when it comes to naming names but one we mustn't miss giving a hand to is Jack Burcroff and his helpers who each year transform rather dull, block-lined walls into something of grandeur. This past weekend, there was red carpeting (wall to wall) installed along with toast-colored draperies over the entire wall area. Then, too, that gold lame' rope added a rather regal, theatrical touch to the proceedings. Beautiful work, Jack!

We understand that over 500 dinners were served during the afternoon and that an estimated thousand or better visited the bazaar and its many offerings.

And guess who won the trip for two to Florida? None other than Charlene McNally, whose hubby, Norm, is a letter carrier out of the Belleville P.O. Getting away from the kiddies for that week in the sun is, no doubt, something Char is eagerly anticipating. Right?

The week-end for two in Detroit, ironically, was won by R. Palonus, of 14578 Forrer. Yes, — of Detroit!

THEY'RE IN ROMA

DOROTHY R. SCHROEDER and Monica M. Mendez departed Sunday evening from Detroit Metro Airport at 6:45 p.m., destination — Rome, Italy.

The two sisters, along with approximately 155 others, took advantage of a tour sponsored by the Western Wayne Deane and their itinerary was to include a 10-day jaunt from Rome to Naples then to the Isle of Capri and back to Rome for a pre-destined meeting with his Holiness Pope Paul. Enroute home the airlines is to make a short stop at Shannon, Ireland, for approximately one hour (and WHAT shopping can be done in that duty-free airport) and then head homeward to Detroit.

Mrs. Schroeder is currently employed with Belvil Realty Company on its sales staff while Mrs. Mendez recently moved from Corona, California to live with her mother, Mrs. Belle Sears, of Savage road. While her daughters are away, Mrs. Sears is the houseguest of another daughter and son-in-law, Alberta and Don Fair, in Ann Arbor.

HERE 'N THERE

THE MILLERS, of Stanley drive, — Gerry, Helen, Jeff, and Pam — enjoyed a recent week-end in Atlanta, Michigan, visiting old friends and former Bellevillites, Mike and Betty Michaels. . . ALSO GETTING away (for that same week-end) were another local dentist and his wife, Ron and Jan Sierota, of Quirk road, who enjoyed their respite at Chimney Corners on Crystal Lake near Frankfort. . . AND STILL another caravan heading Northward at the very same time (that was the October 25th weekend) made its way to Lost Lake Woods Lodge near Harrisville. Quartering at the resort were the Howard Gilmans, of Willis, and their guests, the John MacDonald family, of Livonia; the Gary Kniffens, of Ypsilanti; the Bud Stapleton, Clyde Batzer, and Bill Hudge families, of Belleville; and also the Bob Gray foursome, who had their travel trailer in tow. Saturday evening the group helped celebrate the 35th wedding anniversary of the Gilmans. . . HOME FOR a two weeks leave is our neighbor, Kirk Owen, USN, who is here from Dam Neck Naval Base, in Virginia, before taking on his new assignment at New London, Connecticut.

Playing host at the happy event were the junior Harold Sells and Donald and Anna Mae Staffeld, all of Romulus; and Byron, Elaine, Edwin, Cindy, and Eileen, who are still at home. Another daughter, Karen, is student teaching in Lombard, Illinois, and was unable to add her do-re-mi's to the 'Happy Birthday' overture. Also attending were the couple's two grandchildren, Barry Dean Sell, six, and David Staffeld, eight months.

Following a lovely dessert of ice cream wedding cake, compliments of the management, the group adjourned to the Staffeld home for a decorated anniversary cake and more ice cream.

Harold Sell and the former Lillian Knoski were married November 4, 1933, at Taylor Center Church, Romulus.

Mary Kay Bokon, Barb Lewis, Kathy Bokon, and Rose Melidosian assisted the hostess in preparing the buffet.

A beautiful pink and red cake was the highlight of the festivities, along with the appearance of Mrs. Wilson's recently ill sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Schoeger of Dearborn. Among the guests were the business associates of Jack Wilson, the honoree's son, who gifted her with flowers, a beautiful planter, and a colored television.

Twelve year old Debbie Wahrman entertained girlfriends at a Halloween pajama party Friday night at her home, on Wahrman road. Her junior high guests were Marval McIntosh, Debbie Oldham, Brenda Grose, Kathy Nehila, Nancy Verduco and Carla Hay. Eerie ghosts greeted guests as they arrived at the darkened house. Over 200 Attend Annual Ingathering At Girlstown

The Girlstown annual Ingathering and Open House held special significance this year to all members of its Board of Directors and the members of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs. The special sign posted at the site of the second unit of Girlstown, to be built by 1970, was viewed by many clubwomen and guests attending this annual event.

Early arrivals included members from Imlay City clubs and from the Clare Study Club. During the afternoon a steady stream of visitors viewed the home and new site and brought numerous gifts and many donations.

THE MICHIGAN State

Federation of Women's Clubs has over 18,000 members in the 346 clubs throughout the state and includes 22 clubs in the Upper Peninsula. During the observance of Girlstown Week, November 18-25, the clubwomen and their friends will be holding various types of fund raising projects throughout the state in order to raise the $125,000 needed to construct this second unit of Girlstown. The great need for this type of home where young girls with special problems can receive the kind of assistance needed to help them return to normal community living, has become evident as more and more applications from various parts of the state had to be turned down due to lack of room.

Loch Rio, the first unit of Girlstown, is licensed as a child care agency by the State of Michigan Department of Social Welfare. It was founded in 1958 under the direction of the Girlstown Foundation. Over the years it has been supported by voluntary donations from Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs' members and other interested people, parents, courts, and referring agencies according to their ability to do so.

In Belleville the Junior Study Club and the Woman's Study Club assisted at the Ingathering. During Girlstown Week the local clubs will hold a Silver Tea as their fund raising project.

Trenton Church Reserved For Eldred-Jaddatz Vows

Wide gold wedding bands were exchanged October 9, by Cathie Jaddatz, of Romulus, and Paul Eldred, of Belleville. St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Trenton, was the setting for the candlelight ceremony read on the 20th anniversary of the bride's parents wedding.

The Rev. Charles Curtiss presided at the nuptials which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jaddatz, of 18082 Middlebelt road, Romulus, and the son of William Eldred, of 40360 Alden drive, Belleville.

Two solos were sung by Charles Elliott with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Donald Morrison.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL ELDRED

FOR HER wedding day Cathie donned a white satin semi-fitted A-line gown styled with a lace yoke and three-quarter bell-shaped sleeves. Fashioned by the mother of the bride, the gown was distinguished by a pleated train which cascaded to chapel length from the back yoke.

Her mid-back illusion veil was caught to an organza petaled headpiece tipped with baby pearls and she held cascading white stephanotis surrounding a white orchid. Accenting her ensemble was an heirloom locket which had been given to her grandmother as a child.

Also wearing a gown made by Mrs. Jaddatz was the maid of honor, Sandra Jaddatz, the bride's younger sister. Her pale blue lace over taffeta frock was gathered at the side hem with a blue flower which matched those worn in her hair and she carried a small cascade of flowers edged in blue.

The bridegroom chose his older brother, William, to serve as best man. His younger brother, Jeff, and the bride's cousin, John Miles, both of Belleville, were ushers.

FOR HER daughter's wedding day Mrs. Jaddatz chose a deep green knit dress with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of white flowers tipped in dark green.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall with a second party following at the home of the bride's parents.

Since returning from a week-long honeymoon to Newberry, Michigan, the newlyweds are making their home at 18082 Middlebelt until June when Paul will graduate from R.E.T.S. Both Cathie and Paul are graduates of Huron High School and he is currently employed at the Ford Motor Company, in Plymouth.

Mrs. Simons To Take Part In Scout Council Birthday

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council is celebrating its tenth birthday this year and to launch the observances, the council is holding a banquet Wednesday, November 6, at 6:30 p.m. at the University of Michigan Union ballroom.

Girl Scouting has been organized in this area much longer than 10 years, of course, but the present council was formed in 1958 from smaller councils in Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne Counties. All but the southernmost part of Monroe County was added to the council in 1967. The theme of the banquet is "Look Wider Still" and is based on the quotation by Lord Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the Scouting movement, "Look wide, and when you think you are looking wide, look wider still."

MRS. PAUL Carrington, Ann Arbor, is general chairman of the banquet. Joseph R. Julin, President of the Ann Arbor School Board, father of a Brownie Girl Scout, and husband of a Brownie leader, will serve as master-of-ceremonies. Also included in the program will be Mrs. Lawrence Ward, Milan; Miss Joanna Lester, Ypsilanti; Mrs. O. Lynn Deniston, Ann Arbor; Mrs. George Simons, Belleville; Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, council president, Plymouth; and Miss Margo Olsen, national Girl Scout staff member. Senior Girl Scouts of troop 468, Ypsilanti, led by Mrs. George Sayre, will also take part in the program.

The highlight of the evening will be the honoring of Girl Scout adult volunteers for their contributions to Scouting over the past 10 years, and recognition of the organizations that sponsor Girl Scout troops.

The Girl Scout council is the administrative body for Girl Scout activities in the area according to Mrs. Carrington, so the volunteers recognized will be those that have served as board and committee members, neighborhood chairmen, trainers, area association chairmen, and in other administrative offices.

Other birthday celebrations will be planned during the coming year by local Scout troops and area associations.

MISS COLLIER

November 23 Is Couple's Nuptial

Two Belleville area residents, who have lived across the street from each other most of their lives, are engaged and planning a November wedding.

Gilliam, son of Mrs. Lundy Baker, of 45817 Judd road, Belleville, and the late John Gilliam, on November 23. The Forest Avenue Baptist Church, Ypsilanti, is being reserved for their fall nuptials.

Miss Collier is in her senior year at Belleville High School. A 1967 graduate of Belleville High, the prospective bridegroom is employed at the A&P Food Store, Belleville.

Piano Strikes Happy Note With Psychiatric Patients

THE DAYS CAN drag out interminably when one has nothing to do. . . nothing to look forward to. The patients in male psychiatric geriatric ward at the Wayne County General Hospital find it especially true. . . partly because of their infirmities, and partly because of their age.

Today those patients are luckier. Today there are two new pianos, and those two new pianos are there because the patients themselves helped put them there, and because someone found out a few years ago that patients with mental problems respond to music and become happier and more pliable patients. Today there is less chance that the days will continue to stretch on interminably for some of the patients.

Music therapy, which is a scientific application of the art of music to accomplish therapeutic aims, has been proven to be of great beneficial aid in soothing those suffering from mental illness.

The therapist uses the music to influence changes in the patient's behavior, with the hope that through these changes the patient will experience greater understanding of himself and the world about him.

The trained music therapist follows the specific treatment aims prescribed by the patient's physician, but in order to fulfill the aims, more musical instruments were needed, particularly pianos.

"One piano couldn't begin to service all the wards, particularly when there are two musical therapists," Chris Smith, music therapist, said.

The two therapists, Chris Smith and Shirley Stevens, took their problem to Dr. Sydney B. Jenkins, clinical director of the Psychiatric Division, who in turn, went to Mrs. Avis Newcomb, patient work placement coordinator, and asked her if she could think of a way to raise money for pianos.

And she came up with the idea of the coffee projects and the T.K. Gruber Fund.

The coffee projects are money-making projects manned by the patients, where they make and sell coffee to other patients or to doctors and nurses or visitors. The money from the coffee fund is used to supply the patients with something that will make their life more comfortable and enjoyable, the therapists said.

The T.K. Gruber Fund was founded in memorial to Dr. Gruber, who for many years was superintendent of the entire hospital. The purpose of the fund is to provide those things not provided for in the county budget, which will add to the comfort of the patient. The fund will also buy the second of any item purchased by the county or patient projects.

It has sometimes been debated that pianos might be a luxury, but the two therapists argue with that philosophy.

"We don't feel they are a luxury," Miss Stevens said, "We feel they are actually the tools of our trade."

Many patients have been noticeably improved, the women pointed out, and if the improvement isn't lasting, it is evident every day, that the time spent in music is beneficial, kind of like a tranquilizer would be, they said.

"Sometimes the patient may not be actively participating when we are playing in the wards," they said, "but we will find that he is toe-tapping, or strumming or maybe clapping his hands and keeping time."

Mrs. Gloria O'Sullivan, R.N., on the male psychiatric geriatric ward, pointed out that there were 70 men on her floor with about half of them participating actively in the music sessions.

"Sometimes," she said, "I will go into a patient, who is bedfast, and he will tell me that he really enjoyed a certain song that had been played. You never know who you reach with music."

In view of all this, Mrs. Newcomb started the ball rolling, and each ward in the entire hospital donated money from their coffee projects towards the purchase of a new piano.

Over $500 was raised by the patients, and the new piano purchased was placed in Mrs. O'Sullivan's D-3 psychiatric geriatric male ward, because so many of the patients in there have surgical or medical problems as well as psychiatric, and require more nursing care. Besides, her department contributed the larger amount of money for the project.

With the purchase of the piano, the Gruber Fund came through with a new electronic piano. Chris Smith designed the bottom part of the piano so that it could be easily moved from ward to ward and building to building.

The electronic piano is taken every day to different wards for music therapy.

"The patients, themselves, love it, and come up and play. And visitors as well as volunteer and church groups use the pianos. Besides, the electronic is used for church services each week," Chris said.

"It's wonderful having the pianos," Shirley Stevens said. "We had a small piano, but with the two of us we needed at least two pianos, and could use more, so if any of your readers have a piano they want to get rid of, we won't turn them down. . . that is, if the pianos are in good condition and can be delivered to us. I know beggars shouldn't be choosers," she continued with a smile, "but we are hampered here because we have no means of transporting a piano out here, and we have no funds available to fix it up. That's why we sound kind of choosy, even though we're begging."

"And speaking of begging," Mrs. O'Sullivan put in, "I'd like to do a bit, too. You know, each ward of the psychiatric division attempts to make its rooms more homey and attractive. We feel it can't possibly do anything but have a quieting effect on our patients. Right now, I'm really longing for a grandfather's clock, or a grandmother's clock, for my ward. There's something about a clock that seems to spell 'home,' she said wistfully, "and I've been wishing and wishing for someone with one of those clocks to come out and say they'd love to donate it to us."

The three women also urged readers to remember that musical instruments are always eagerly accepted, and that if any are tucked away in attics or under beds, and not being used, give them a call.

Someone once said, "Music soothes the soul," and the three women who daily see it happen, agree.

OPERATES FROM DIRT — Designed to land only on paved runways, the C-141 Starlifter proves a point not expected, that it can operate from bare soil. The first tests were made at Harper's Dry Lake near Edwards Air Force Base in California.

Air Force Sky Giant Operates from Bare Soil

A MAJOR MILESTONE was reached last week for operational use of a jet aircraft. For the first time, a giant US Air Force fanjet C-141 "Starlifter" cargo aircraft, weighing more than one-quarter of a million pounds, landed on the bare soil of a California desert.

Original design called for this jet aircraft to land only on paved runways. The four landings made on Harper's Dry Lake are only the prelude to extensive testing of landings on soil that will soon follow.

Supplementing this, crews of the Lockheed-Georgia Company reported they have completed detailed tests also of landing the big jet transport on aluminum mats at Dyess Air Force Base in Texas and are taking a long look at the ability of the C-141 to land on bare soil at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. Edwards is the main test center for the U.S. Air Force where almost every aircraft that has been in the service of our nation has been thoroughly tested before being accepted for first-line operations.

Preliminary conclusions from the mat landing study shows that the C-141 Starlifter can be operated from such temporary runways. The C-141 used during the tests weighed over 257,000 pounds. The tests and study were conducted by the Air Force Systems Command's Aeronautical Systems Division.

"THIS FLYING WORLD" — By Bill Balogh

Further tests and study will follow with a special test program on landing the C-141 on soil with various type loads and under trying conditions that flight crews would possibly encounter under mission conditions delivering either supplies or military personnel.

This capability of this giant jet transport operating from temporary runways has many advantages. In most remote areas, paved runways are generally unavailable. In these locations, operating from aluminum mats covering temporary runways would enable these giant transports to move far closer to forward areas where previously landings would have been impossible.

Especially in locations such as are in Vietnam and other parts of the world, hours of time could be saved from having to drop cargo and men miles from their destination and then trucking or walking them to assembly points. Better rested troops with less fatigue would be ready for military operations hours and possibly days before any other method that could be used.

On the return trip the jet transport would be bringing out wounded in record time to rear area hospitals, avoiding long, hard, hand-carrying or ground transportation of the injured soldiers, thus assuring them quick attention within hours after injury at the front lines.

The C-141 Starlifter is the largest air transport in daily use by the U.S. Air Force. They are used in world-wide service with the Military Airlift Command on an around-the-clock basis and carry military supplies ranging from ammunition, tanks, guns and airplanes. They can quickly be converted for the return trip into a complete hospital evacuation aircraft, carrying up to 80 wounded, nurses and doctors.

THE FIRST SUPER JET, the Boeing 747, was rolled out for the first time only three weeks ago. But you can already book reservations for the first flight which will take place in December, 1969. Pan American World Airways announced this week that the first Boeing 747 Super-jet flight would be from New York to Paris and that advance reservations can now be booked for this historical flight. The flight will be called the "President Special" and will also feature a "Rainbow" economy section.

The Boeing 747 is expected to carry almost 500 passengers and will be the first "ocean liner of the skies" to fly to major capitals of the world which will include London, Paris, Frankfurt and Rome.

Pan American will be the first airline in the world to fly the giant jetliner that covers the better part of an average football field, yet can fly carrying 490 passengers across the Atlantic in less than six hours at speeds over 600 miles per hour.

The Eagles scored in the first half but couldn't hold on to their lead and settled for a tie against the Vikings. Coach George Pratt's boys will wrap up the season at Robichaud Friday afternoon.

Romulus Plays By Rules, Gets Robbed of Touchdown

ROMULUS - Learning the rules before you play the game can pay off in any sports but it apparently didn't do Romulus' gridders any good to know that after a punt the ball "just ain't dead" until the refs' whistle. Romulus was forced to settle for a 6-all tie with nonleague rival Inkster after a "bizarre play" ended in controversy. In the second period the Eagles booted to Inkster and the ball was "downed" on the 50-yard line and with no whistle on the play and with the Viking defense trotting off the field, Romulus' Louis Davis scooped up the ball and raced for the goal line, showing he had done his homework.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

Doing Your Homework

It's always nice to know that your kids have done their homework and Romulus head coach George Pratt, who hails from Ann Arbor, was especially pleased with Louis Davis. Davis apparently was all "ears" when he heard his coach relate that Ann Arbor Huron lost a 6-0 game to rival Battle Creek a couple of weeks ago because the players out at Huron didn't know that in a punt situation, although the defense may have downed the ball, the ball isn't considered "dead" until a ref blows his whistle.

So, doing what comes naturally, when Romulus punted to Inkster in the second quarter and one of Inkster's men placed his hand on the ball and the entire squad started to trot off the field, Davis picked up the ball and raced for the goal line. There was no whistle by any of the three refs. But the cheering aroused the suspicions of one of coach Sylvester Mosley's Vikings, who flew back into the game and nabbed Louis at the 20-yard line.

After a chat with all those concerned, the refs decided to give the ball to Romulus at the 20 yard line. But to this day, everyone who is concerned is wondering - Was Louis tackled by an illegible player who just got up from the bench and was not in the game?

Oh, I would have given anything to have seen Mosley's face on that one play!

East and West

Anything East can do, rival Garden City West can do better, has been the philosophy these two bitter sports rivals have been preaching since the doors to West opened in 1965.

And fans are trying to guess at what West's Pep Club will do to outdo East's spectacular fireworks during halftime ceremonies last year when the two clashed on the gridiron.

Of course, the year before that West's Pep Club came up with an idea to land their mascot at midfield via helicopter.

The plot thickens when one realizes that West will dedicate its new stadium Friday night when East comes to West. What will the Tigers come up with - it's anyone's guess!

But one of my spies informed me that West will have some real live Tigers roaming the field at halftime.

And I wouldn't put that past them.

That's why I've decided to go to Belleville and watch John Glenn play.

Speaking of John Glenn, I can't understand why the Rockets don't play Wayne Memorial in football. If East plays West, and Inkster takes on Robichaud and Army has Navy, Michigan State - Michigan, then, why not a match between the two schools?

Can someone give me an answer to that one?

Poetry in Motion

And, no offense (or defense?) dear coach, but I came across this beautiful poem which I thought I should throw out at you. (And just watch the reaction I get.)

Frosty winds warn that Winter approaches
And colleges soon will
Fire their grid coaches.

Belleville Snaps Losing Streak

TIGERS FACE GLENN FOR 1st TIME

Belleville gridders and coach Jim Richendollar made it known to Ypsilanti that they would not tolerate a repetition of last Friday's Redford Union game and held on to win a 19-14 non-conference decision to snap a five-game losing streak.

The previous week, Belleville grabbed an 18-0 lead only to lose to Redford Union, 20-18.

And it appeared that history was about to repeat itself at Ypsilanti where the Tigers got on the scoreboard in each of the first two quarters before the Braves slashed the lead by a third period TD and threatened a 'rerun'.

Gary Gentle climaxed a 65-yard opening kickoff drive to score the first Belleville TD from five yards off and Dietrick Freyberger booted the extra point. In that initial drive, Bruce Bara and Steve Hampton came up with a couple of excellent runs.

Belleville defense, kept compact with the performances of middle guard Jim Singleton, who accounted for ten tackles, end Mike Kowalski, linebackers Chris Boyd and Bill Lambert, contained the Braves within their own territory most of the first half.

The Tigers flew to a second period TD with Steve Hampton polishing off a 50-yard drive, which included a 25 yard pass from quarterback John Yocum.

But Ypsilanti awoke from their initial shock in the second half and scored on a 60-yard pass play to slash the Tiger edge, 13-7.

A five yard touchdown run by Derrick King cooled the Braves who couldn't stop the Tiger power backfield on Bara, Hampton and Yocum. Yocum came up with a 20-yard sprint in that final TD drive.

A Wilson to Bickley TD missile which covered 26-yards was Ypsilanti's final answer.

Belleville will wrap up the '68 campaign as guests to John Glenn, which surprised Mid-Wayne Conference rival, Taylor Center, last week.

It's the first time the Tigers and Rockets will mix in football competition.

"They have an excellent team over there at Glenn," said coach Richendollar, "and, although we have never met on the gridiron, I am looking forward to the encounter."

"We would like to finish the year in the winning column," added the Tiger coach.

And it looked as if Belleville was aiming to avenge its previous losses with a rout of Ypsilanti.

A Petite Queen, A Record Turnout For Romulus Flyers

Although they haven't registered a victory this year, Romulus' Little League representatives, the Flyers, received a tremendous reception at their "Homecoming Game" last Sunday against Livonian's Bluejays.

Fans, parents, and players crowded into Romulus stadium Sunday to view the festivities which included the "coronation" of Denise Hunter, chosen by the Flyers as their Homecoming Queen.

"It was the largest turnout ever at a Little League game," said Ron Halvin, head coach, "and I feel now that we will get the support of everyone in the future."

Romulus will wrap up the Little League campaign this Sunday.

All-Area Coming Up Next Week

Time is running out on the high school football and cross country season and before the transition to winter sports is made, the Associated Newspapers will pause to reveal its 1968 All-Area Football and Cross Country teams.

In next week's ANP edition, ANP sports editor Tom Mooradian, in cooperation with the area high school coaches, selected the candidates for the Cross Country team and the Coach of the Year.

Seven harriers, who set records, won titles, ran in regional as well as state meets will be honored. Also receiving plaudits for a job well done will be a cross country Coach of the Year.

Two weeks from Thursday, the ANP will introduce its annual All-Area football teams, honoring an offensive and defensive unit as well as Coach of the Year.

Good Ole Turkey Shot

By TOM ISLEY

We attended an old fashioned turkey shoot over the weekend staged by the Farmington Elks and, although we didn't win a turkey ourselves, had a most enjoyable time.

This particular turkey shoot was different than what you might expect, if you remember the Sgt. York-type where they used live birds. Targets were used and the best shots in each flight won the turkeys. Turkeys were also won by persons who didn't even have to shoot as cards with names written in circles about the size of a half-dollar were blasted from about 30 yards away by shotgun and the bee bees closest to the center of the circles on each card won the turkeys for those persons.

Bert Osterberg, general manager of the Enterprise Roman, was lucky and won a turkey in the above-described fashion, without even having to show up.

The event packed in quite a few sportsmen who took their chances on the shotgun range. A total of 68 turkeys were awarded to the top marksmen and those on the cards with bee bees closest to the center of their circles.

George Phieffer of WJR's "Woods and Waters" show was there and tried his luck both ways to win a turkey along with Don Stewart of the Michigan Marine Dealers Association. Sorry to say these fellows didn't fare any better than I did.

Lonesome George had the temerity to write a "condemned" sign and tag it on my shotgun after giving it an inspection and detecting a little rust on the barrel. As luck would have it, I wasn't able to use my own gun anyway since the man in charge of the turkey shoot wasn't letting full chokes in the competition.

It was a fine afternoon for the event and we will have to mark it down to make sure we don't miss it next year. It's rather a novel way to bring home a Thanksgiving Day turkey and the Elks really have something going for them with this one.

Hunting Activities Lead Events

Big game hunting and related activities dominate the Michigan outdoor scene in November, the Michigan Tourist Council reported.

The bow and arrow deer hunting season which started the first of October ends Nov. 14, followed by the firearm deer season, Nov. 15-30, and the several special hunter's fetes and celebrations that go with it.

Plans for Grayling's 10th annual Red Coat Roundup, Nov. 14-17, will include a buck pole displaying the hunters' trophies to be set in the community parking lot. Prizes will be offered in several categories.

THE HUNTER'S BALL, Croton-Hardy, Nov. 22, will feature two bands as well as contests with prizes.

Other November events include the Buck Pole Contest at Mancelona, the Buck Derby, Whittemore, and the annual Christmas Tree Harvest Festival, Kalkaska, Nov. 23, which will preview the holiday season.

The last day of November is the first day of the nationally-acclaimed Detroit Auto Show, Nov. 30 - Dec. 8, featuring a display of outstanding and popular domestic and foreign cars.

Open House Scheduled

ROMULUS—The Mt. Pleasant Elementary School's PTA will sponsor an Open House at the School Tuesday, Nov. 12 from 7 to 8 p.m.

PTA leaders issued a reminder to parents to attend and extended a personal invitation.

Teachers will be on hand to greet parents and assist them. The school is located at 3900 Superior road.

over from the three to give Romulus a 6-0 lead.

Glinski's attempt for the extra point went wide and the Eagles received a second chance because of a holding penalty. Williams, then, plowed through the middle but was caught short of the goal line.

Inkster came back to knot up the ball game midway in the final quarter when Esaias Lee picked off Glinski's pass at the 38-yard line and ran it in for a touchdown.

Lee's attempt to sneak the ball over for the decisive point was also stopped.

Inkster wrapped up the season with a 1-5-2 record finishing ahead of Robichaud in the Mid-Wayne Conference standings while Romulus heads for Robichaud Friday for its season's finale.

The Canines have failed to win a game this season and have been shutout in their last six appearances.

For the second time this year, Romulus' passing attack came alive with Glinski completing 7 of 14 attempts for a total of 124 yards. Coach George Pratt hopes the momentum will continue against Robichaud.

Williams contributed 53 of the 126 rushing yardage gained by the Eagles for one of his best performances of the season while the team accumulated a total of 250 yards.

Steestedt, aside from his outstanding offensive contribution, had 11 unassisted tackles and two assists while brothers John and Gary Stanek each had six tackles while Ken Parker picked off five Vikings and got credit for two assists.

scoreboard in the opening quarter on Nick Volk's three-yard plunge and teammates Steve Palazzola and Gary Carlouf chipped in two other TDs in the second period to climax long drives with short runs.

Highlighting Huron's defensive attack was the performance turned in by Therle Dregansky who chalked up 13 unassisted tackles. Butch Suemnick knocked down seven runners from his safety slot while Billy Crocker picked off two passes for interceptions.

Also coming up with a stellar defensive effort was halfback Randy Gorham.

WRITE VERSE

Seventh Grade English Class Studying Poetry

BELLEVILLE — The seventh grade English classes of teacher Mrs. Betty Sullivan, at Belleville Junior High School, have been studying poetry.

They are using an excellent anthology compiled especially for youth, Poetry Festival, edited by John Bettenbender. Some of their favorites are "Casey at the Bat", "Old Ironsides", "Fog", "Jesse James", "Billy the Kid", "The Wreck of the Hesperus", "Kubla Khan", "Frankie and Johnny", and many others.

In connection with their poetry, they read a few epitaphs and tried writing their own. Some very imaginative ones were turned in. Two follows:

"I died in a very peaceful way.
I died in the middle of the day.
I died at 12:30 in the afternoon.
I knew I would go pretty soon."

Mike Gephart

"I died of old age
But still before I was on the rampage,
Still going, still working and going strong,
But then one day
When I was working away,
I slowly but steadily lost my life away.
But still alive in another way —
People remembered me day after day."

Jeff Gale

PERSONAL REQUEST — Bill Balogh, ANP's Aviation Columnist and Photographer (center) was requested by Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, a personal friend, to pose in the above photograph when he arrived at Metro Airport last Friday, Nov. 1, for a final campaign drive in Metropolitan Detroit. Looking on is Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley.

FOR LAKE CLEAN-UP

Huron Valley Conservation Group Calls for Support

BY ED SHUMBERA
BELLEVILLE — Spring, 1969, Belleville Lake, closed on account of pollution.

To some people who wanted the lake to themselves will have to, but now they will not be able to use it, others will decide to move elsewhere. Out of town visitors will also find other places to go, one extra source of revenue will go with them. Is this being primed for progress with pleasant living?

The Huron Valley Conservation Association is still quite concerned about this situation and what can be done about it. Has the shoreline of Belleville Lake been checked for drains being emptied into the lake? Are proper steps being taken to correct this problem if it exists?

Before we can demand other communities to correct their pollution of the Huron River, we have to correct our sources of pollution.

If this writer's memory is correct, there is a ravine just East of Rawsonville road, and on the South side of I-94, that has a culvert which empties into it. The source, who knows, it may be Willow Run Airport?

This is one problem that our two-governments should work together on. They should check and see what grants and funds are available. Through the Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966, which authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to provide grants for the administrative expenses of a planning agency for developing an effective comprehensive water quality control and abatement plan for a river basin.

This is just one source of help that is available, there are others.

What is it going to be, Belleville Lake of Sewage Lake? The Huron Valley Conservation Association ask your support by phoning, writing or if possible, a personal contact with your local officials, County officials, State Representatives, Congressman, and Governor.

Election

ROMULUS — The Romulus Band Boosters held an election of officers at their meeting of Oct. 17, at Romulus Senior High School.

The slate reads as follows: President, May Muggelberg; Vice-President, Sheila Hoelt; Secretary, Virginia Lundine; Treasurer, Ronald Hoelt.

The Band Boosters are currently holding a membership drive. The membership tickets are 50 cents each. The group would welcome the support of all parents of the musicians as well as all persons interested in local music.

Receipts are used for the benefit to the high school band and orchestra.

The group's next meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 21, in the band room at the Senior High School.

INSPECTING LASER AND HOLDGRAMS — Robert Buzzard (left) presented a talk on Holography when appearing as guest speaker at the Oct. 29 meeting of Belleville Rotary. Holography is the science of making three-dimensional pictures which can be viewed without glasses. Inspecting some of Buzzard's equipment are Dr. Dayton Prouty and Bud Brown of Bud's TV.

Officers Are Named

BELLEVILLE — The Woman's Relief Corps, District No. Two, held their annual convention at Deerfield, Michigan.

Representatives from the local WRC — the John M. Wahl Corps, several department officers and one national WRC officer were in attendance.

From the John M. Wahl Corps were Mrs. Doris French, 12208 Hannan road, Mrs. Ruth Ann Knysz, 39595 Huron River drive, and Mrs. Lillian Katz.

Mrs. Knysz read a report of the year and the report of John M. Wahl Corps' Institution held last year and received a sound applause. She was elected president for the ensuing year. The convention will be held in Belleville next October with the local Corps serving as hostess.

OTHER LOCAL members elected were:

Mrs. Hazel Miller, 36900 Grant road, Romulus, Secretary; Mrs. Lu Ella Mandeville, 12154 Hannan road, Color Guard No. 4;

Bettie Kuttel, 40165 Alden drive, Press Correspondence; Mrs. Olive Caswell, 50225 Expressway, Musician. All will be sworn into office at a subsequent Corps meeting.

Mrs. French whistled a melody of patriotic songs and Mrs. Knysz read an article entitled, "I Am Your Flag," a very thought-provoking article.

it's 'Official' in Associated Newspapers

No matter where you live in Western Wayne County, one of the FIVE Associated Newspapers is the official legal publication of your community!

WHAT DOES THIS DESIGNATION MEAN?

TO YOU

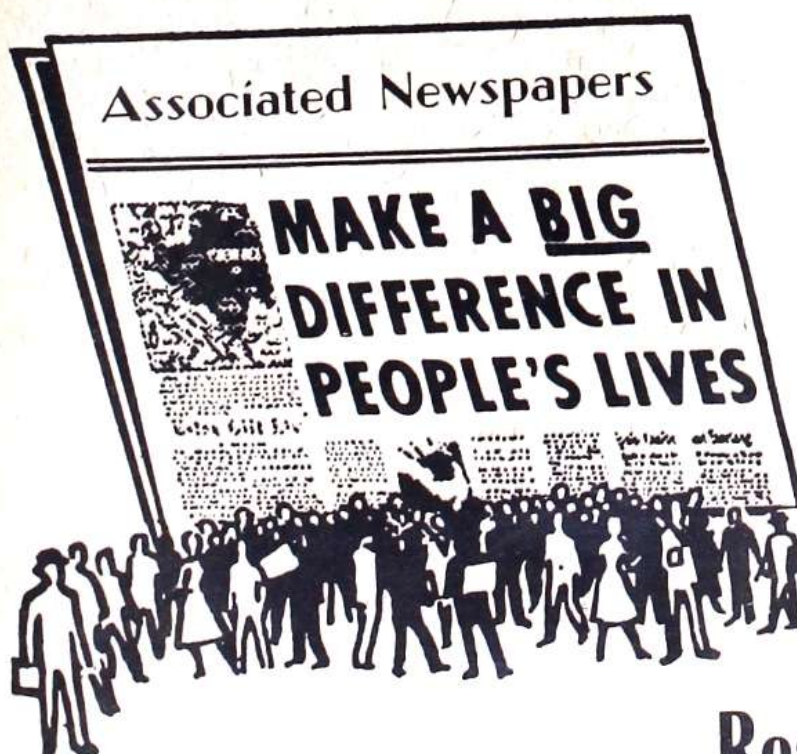

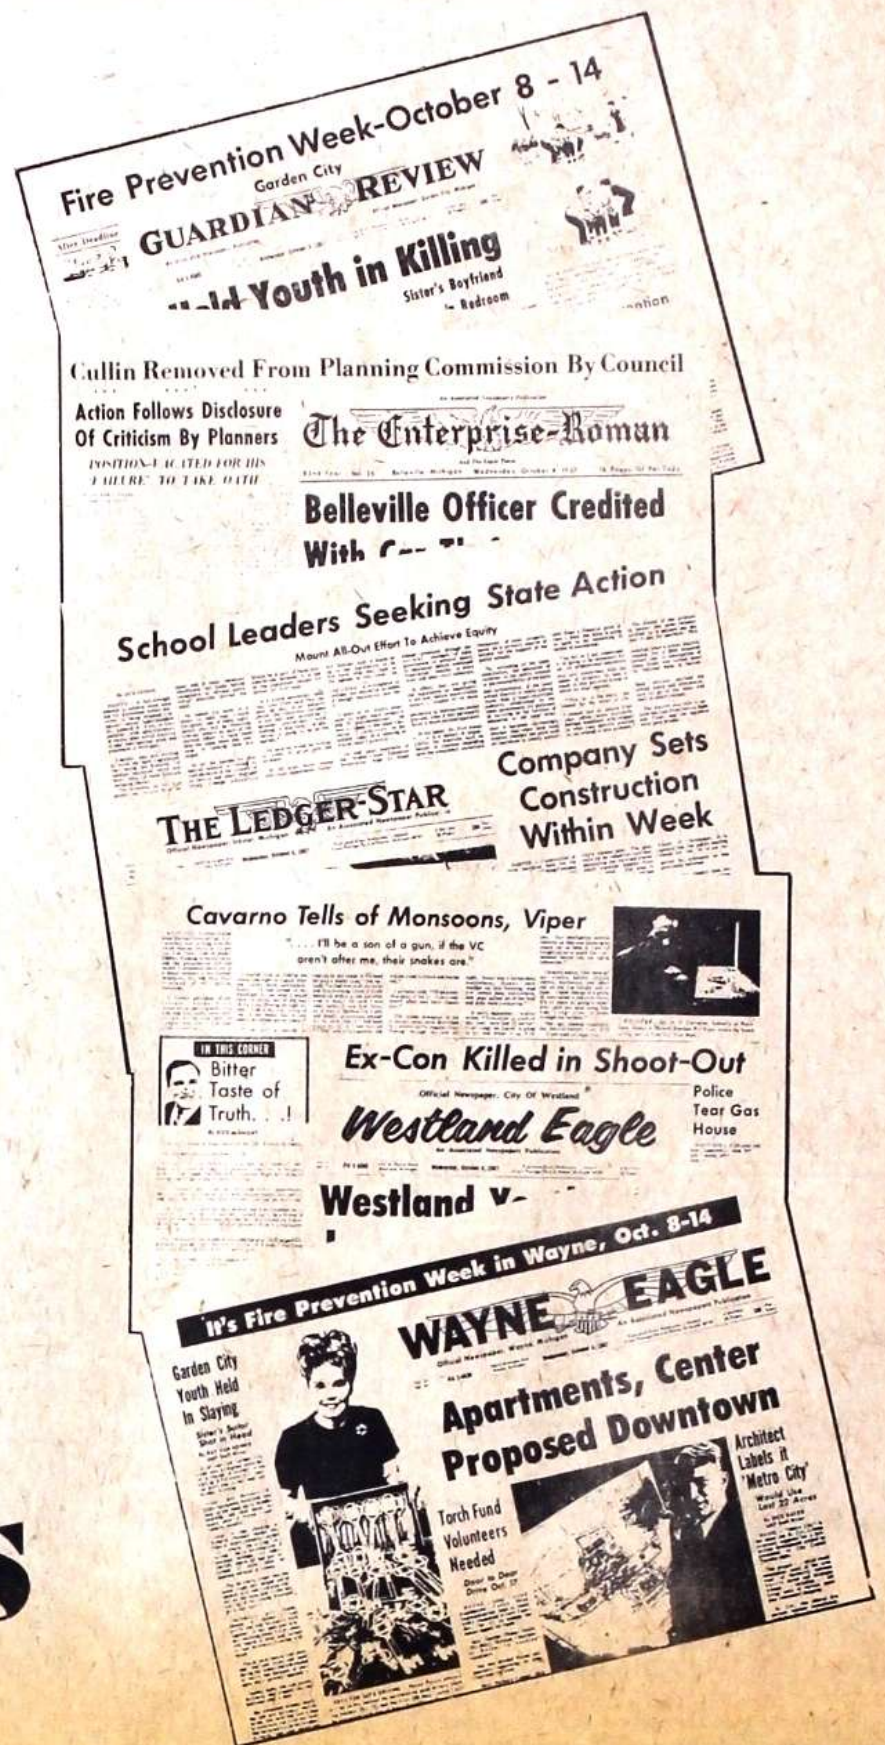

It means that ONLY in an Associated Newspaper can you find the official actions of the various governmental bodies in your community. Western Wayne County is on the move. . . it's a vigorous, progressive area. New zoning ordinances are being approved . . . planning commissions are making decisions that may affect you and your property . . . your city council or township board may pass special assessments. . . changes are being considered in tax procedures. . . election details are vital. It is important you know of these varied actions---many of them affect you and your neighbors. And remember---ONLY in an Associated Newspaper can you read the "Official Proceedings!"

TO US

This means the governmental unit responsible for selecting an official publication in each community has demonstrated deep respect for the Associated Newspapers by awarding them this designation. This has been true not just this year but for many years in most of Western Wayne County areas. We are genuinely appreciative for this expression of confidence!

Area Credit Bureau Moves Into New Offices in Wayne

WAYNE — The Credit Bureau of Western Wayne, now under new ownership and recently moved into new quarters at 34646 Sims, Wayne, has announced it has purchased the Brighton Credit Bureau in Brighton and plans to expand its operations and field of services.

Conrad J. Burkman, co-owner of the Credit Bureau with Detroit attorney Raymond P. Heyman, said Mrs. Dorothy Cornelius, a long-time employee, will continue as office manager. She now has an office staff of eight girls and anticipates expanding the office force to another six or eight persons in the near future.

"The Credit Bureau has handled national accounts for the gasoline companies and major credit card companies, as well as for local banks and lending institutions, in recent years and now plans to offer additional services to their customers through the use of a "computerized system".

"Speed and efficiency are the name of the game", says Burkman, in explaining the new system being introduced at the Credit Bureau.

A "check register" system for credit granters is one of the new innovations being put into operation at the Credit Bureau. A "hot line" for checking addresses and a "banking exchange" system for professional men are both programs in the future plans of the Bureau.

Burkman stated he hopes to have his files, which contain more than 500,000 references on individuals and small companies in this area, newly categorized for use under the computerized system. Machines are now in use, he said which have a "memory bank" capable of storing 13 million reference files and methods have been developed to make it possible to completely retype all of the files in just seven and one-half minutes.

Streamlined office procedures, Burkman maintains, are important in his business more than any other because increased volume and increased service place a heavy burden on the office staff.

Burkman and Heyman also own the Plymouth Finance Company which has four offices in the metropolitan Detroit area.

The Credit Bureau covers Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Livonia, Belleville, Inkster, Romulus, and ten other area communities.
